The screenshot shows the Ascensus website interface. At the top, there is a navigation menu with links: Home, Your Account, Your Plan Investments, Statements and Reports, Learning Center, My Profile, and Help. Below the menu is a main heading "Set Your Retirement Goals Now!" with a sub-heading "Click 'Set My Goals' to learn how much you may need to retire and how close you are to reaching your goals." and a note: "Note: This provides an illustration only and will not make any changes to your account settings." A "Set My Goals" button is visible. Below this is a "Calculator Disclaimer" icon. The main content area is titled "I Want To..." and displays "Account Details". The account details include a "Summary Information" section with a "Total Balance" of $37,058.64. The "Account Balance" section shows a table of funds:

Funds	Units	Price	Balance	% of Total
American Funds EuroPacific Growth Fund A (AERGX)	928.0630	$38.71	$35,623.14	91.81%
American Funds AMCap Fund A (AMCPX)	159.0000	$20.23	$3,234.50	8.19%
TOTAL BALANCE			$37,058.64	100%

Below the table is a pie chart showing the distribution of the account balance. To the right of the account details is a "Questions" section and an "Account Balance Over Time" bar chart showing the balance from 06/30/2012 to 06/30/2014. Callouts on the right side of the image point to various features: "Make changes to your account" (points to the navigation menu), "Discover planning tools and strategies" (points to the "Set My Goals" button), "Review statements and account activity" (points to the "Statements and Reports" link), "Research your investment options" (points to the "Funds" table), and "Keep tabs on the market" (points to the "Market Information" link).
